ONCE UPON A TIME…….
What wonderful words these are! When we read them, when we hear them, when we use them in our writing they open up new worlds and adventures for all of us. Reading and writing are the best inventions ever!!!!!

Mums and dads, did you know that it is a kid’s job to read and parents’ job to persist and be patient for as long as it takes for a child to be an independent reader? It is also your job to read to your children until they are ten as they can hear the emotions and tone in your reading. They absorb these and it helps children develop resilience, learn hidden rules and to use the appropriate emotion at the right time. They must see you reading every day as well—newspapers, magazine and books.

Taking turns when reading is so much fun especially when the story is funny such as the Andy Griffiths, Roald Dahl and Horrible Histories books. Books that make you change your voice such as variations of The Three Little Pigs are also fun to read. Joke books are really good fun for children. Non-fiction books are thrilling as we read and learn new facts. The Guinness Book of Records or any book about creatures, especially sharks and snakes and crocodiles, are always exciting to read. The feel of a book is a simple luxury, especially books that are textured or have turn-out-the-flap in them such as ‘Whose behind the Door’ series. Turning the page to see what comes next – that is the thrill in every book!

L3, L2, Reading Recovery, Reading to Self, Accelerated Literacy and Library lessons are the wonderful programs we have here at Franklin to encourage your child to engage with books, to interact with quality literature and to appreciate the gifts books give us.

The school was able to select from thousands of valuable school resources - from arts and crafts, to mathematics and science equipment, to musical instruments. The new equipment and supplies have been welcomed by our students and teachers.

School’s Tree Day

Last Thursday 45 excited Kindergarten students took part in the School’s Tree Day, coordinated by Planet Ark and proudly sponsored by Toyota. School’s Tree Day is a special day for all Australians to help out by planting and caring for native trees and shrubs to improve the environment in which they live. It was a wonderful opportunity for the Kinders to make a contribution to our school’s natural environment and they also had a lot of fun doing it! A big thank you to the Landcare Nursery for supplying Franklin Public School with the native grasses for our Kinders to plant.

Additionally Mrs Stuckey and some Kinder helpers had a lot of fun planting Franklin’s very own Christmas Tree. Our Kindergarten students are very excited to look after it as it grows!
